Illness Stops Upton Close's Lecture Tour

Speaker Scheduled to Talk Tonight Has Returned To New York

Upton Close's lecture, scheduled for tonight, will not be given, the outside entertainment committee has announced. Close was taken ill in New Orleans en route to the west on his lecture tour, and will not be able to fill any engagements until the autumn season.

Cancellation of the program meant that for the second time in two days speakers who had been scheduled for state university appearances were unable to appear. E. Urner Goodman, Boy Scout executive, was to have spoken last night on Boy Scout problems, but because of a conflict of speaking dates, he was forced to leave early in the afternoon for Spokane.

The outside entertainment committee under the chairmanship of Dick Ormsbee, met yesterday to select a speaker to replace Close on the five-part program of the entertainment series. The only action taken was to select a group of speakers from whom the final selection will be made.

A letter from Walter Ricks, manager of World Celebrities, with which Close was affiliated, said that Close started from New York on his current series. When he reached New Orleans, after a heavy speaking schedule, he was unable to go on and was forced to return to New York. Close is the outstanding authority in America on Oriental affairs.

Ormsbee said yesterday that his committee would attempt to select a speaker of equal prominence to replace Close. The date will be moved forward until late April or May. Among those proposed were William L. Finley, noted naturalist; Brayton Eddy, naturalist and scientist; Frank Branch Riley, Dr. Levi Pennington and General U. G. McAlexander, authorities on implications of current trends.

Close's lecture was to have been the fifth in the series which has seen the appearance here of Dr. G. F. Simmons, noted explorer; Jose Iturbi, Spanish pianist; Kathryn Meisle, Metropolitan Opera company contralto, and the Barrere-Salzedo-Britt ensemble of flute, harp and cello.

W. D. MURRAY ELECTED HEAD OF BARRISTERS' FRATERNITY

At a meeting of Phi Delta Phi, national honorary law fraternity, held last week, W. D. Murray, Butte, was elected president to succeed Newell Gough, Missoula.

Lee Metcalf, Stevensville, will replace Hubert Simmons, Red Lodge, as treasurer for the organization. Phil Roberts, Helena, was elected secretary, and Nat Allen, Roundup, was elected historian.

Professor F. C. Scheuch is suffering from a light case of flu.

Dr. Frank Harmon Garver Will Teach At University During Summer Session

Southern California History Instructor Will Offer Course In Montana History and Government

Dr. Frank Harmon Garver, professor of history at the University of Southern California, will teach Montana history and government at this summer's session. Dr. Garver will temporarily replace Dr. Paul C. Phillips, chairman of the department, who has accepted a visiting professorship at the University of Southern California.

Dr. Garver is a former Montana professor, having taught for years at the state normal college in Dillon. He was chairman of the Southern California Institution's history department from 1929 to 1932.

The visiting professor, Dr. E. E. Bennett and Dean J. E. Miller will comprise the history department faculty this summer. Dean Miller will teach during the first six weeks' session, and then Dr. Bennett will teach Dean Miller's courses during the last three weeks.

Announcement was made at the president's office that courses to be taught in the department will be English history (Miller and Bennett), United States history (Garver), Montana History and Government (Garver), Europe in the nineteenth century (Miller and Bennett) and sem-

Branch Appointed On Pittsburgh Staff

Eastern University Names Montana Professor to Faculty

Dr. E. Douglas Branch, assistant professor of English since the last summer session, has been chosen as research professor of history at the University of Pittsburgh. While there he will write a book on the early history of transportation in western Pennsylvania.

The volume is to be written under the auspices of the Buhl foundation, and with it Arthur Pound will write a book dealing with history of industries in Pennsylvania. Dr. Branch expects to spend two years gathering his material and writing the book.

"He will not leave until September 1, remaining to teach at the coming summer session. He is the author of several books, the latest of which is "The Sentimental Years," a study of the Civil war and post-Civil war period.

Bode Receives Valuable Ideas At Convention

Co-ed Represents University At A.F.C.W. Meeting At Mills College

"I came back to Montana with many new ideas for the organization of W. A. A. which will stimulate interest and participation in women's athletics," stated Virginia Bode, who returned Tuesday from the western sectional convention of the Athletic Federation of College Women at Mills College, Oakland, California.

The convention was made up of a number of discussion groups and research reports which were of unusual value to the delegates who attended. Miss Bode declared. Several changes in the A. F. C. W. program were made which will be voted on at the national convention next year at the University of Minnesota.

"One of the most interesting things is meeting such outstanding people associated with athletic associations," Miss Bode said. "Mills college was an unusually splendid college for a convention. It is beautifully located on the outskirts of Oakland. Every woman took it upon herself to act as hostess. The use of the tennis courts, the pool and the riding facilities was made up to us, and I got a slight coat of tan. We were entertained at banquets and dinners, and a tea in the Student Union building."

Helene Mayer, who has won several national championships, gave a fencing demonstration, and Tina Flade of the Wigman school in Germany danced several tangos. Approximately one hundred twenty delegates were present from schools in the Pacific section.

Heller Named To Head Plan For Aber Day

Veteran Athlete Is Manager; Sections of Campus To Be Cleaned

Spring activities were in full swing this week when Central board announced the arrangements for Aber Day. Albert "Buck" Heller, Twin Bridges, was selected as manager.

Heller, who will be graduated this spring, holds three letters in basketball. Other men who have won three letters and were therefore eligible for the managerial position were Lief Andersen, Dillon; Naseby Rhinehart, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; George Sayatovich, Anaconda; Jimmy Brown, Butte; Don Holloway, Townsend; Bill Hileman, Whitefish, and Bill Erickson, Butte.

Aber Day in the past has been devoted almost exclusively to work. The campus was cleaned up and all rubbish destroyed. Lamp posts were repainted and work was done on the athletic fields.

With the present FERA set-up it is impossible to include all of these items in the program. However, about two hours will be spent cleaning up around the tennis courts, Student Union building, rock garden and in back of the law school. All those who are working during this period will be allowed to go and vote in groups so that the cleaning-up process will not be delayed.

High Court will be held immediately following the lunch hour. There will also be a presentation of basketball sweaters and other awards at this time.

During the afternoon, games and contests will be held and a track meet and baseball game will take place on the athletic fields. The whole evening will be devoted to the A. S. U. M. carnival and mixer.

A complete schedule will be forthcoming in a later issue.

Grid Coach Here May Have to Be Montana Resident

Attorney-General Nagle Interprets
H. B. 474 as Pertaining
To State Schools

Complications in the coaching situation at the state university were seen today as a result of the recent interpretation by Attorney-General Raymond T. Nagle on H. B. 474. Nagle stated that the law would require that the new football coach at the university be a resident of the state.

The bill, which was passed at the last session of the legislature, stated that "No state or other public corporation in Montana including all state or other public offices, commissions, boards, departments and other public bodies shall employ aliens or non-citizens; provided, that this restriction shall not apply to the employment of technically educated and trained or professional persons when persons of such class can not be secured among the citizens of the state of Montana."

The question was brought up by the county attorney of Lewis and Clark county, who asked if the law would apply to public schools, and Nagle answered that it would. He also stated that it might apply to the coaching vacancy here. Several state residents are known to have applied for the job.

Just what the final action will be is not known. It is believed here that the university will not be classified under that law which, according to Nagle's interpretation, includes public and secondary schools.

Economic Security Talk Given By Snell at Club

Professor Hampton K. Snell addressed the New Deal Study club on economic security in the club room in the basement of the Stop and Shop store Tuesday afternoon.

He analyzed the problems of old age pensions, unemployment insurance and the Townsend Plan and reviewed the proposed social and economic security bill.

The talk lasted approximately an hour, following which the women discussed the topics presented. The club was organized to study various phases of the New Deal.

Election Petitions Due

Petitions for the Aber Day elections must be turned in by Wednesday, April 24. These petitions will mark the filing of nominations for the A. S. U. M. and class offices.

The clause from the constitution governing the application for office says, "Each candidate for office must be nominated by a petition bearing at least ten signatures of active members of A. S. U. M., and must also bear the registrar's certificate of eligibility. The petition shall be filed with the student auditor who will keep secret the names of the candidates until the names are posted five days before election."

"Nominations shall be posted on the Associated Students' bulletin board or published in the Kaimin by the secretary five days before the election."

All those who are planning on running for office are asked to file their petitions as soon as possible so that all necessary data may be checked on.

The general election will be held some time during the latter part of April.

Dr. C. H. Clapp Is Recovering After Operation

University President Back Following Treatment In Spokane

"President Clapp is doing as well as can be expected," Dr. A. R. Foss, Northern Pacific hospital physician, said yesterday after the university president had undergone an operation at the hospital. Dr. Clapp is suffering from complications which resulted from bacillary dysentery.

Recovery will be "a long, drawn-out process, however, and it is difficult to say just when President Clapp will be able to return to his home and to his work," the physician said.

President Clapp returned Tuesday from Spokane where he had undergone examination at the Deaconess hospital. Results of the diagnosis made there tallied with previous tests made at the local hospital. Dr. W. J. Pennock, Spokane physician, Dr. G. M. Jennings and Dr. Wyberne Chapelle of the local hospital staff, operated.

Results of the operation disclosed that President Clapp is suffering from a severe inflammation resulting from the long attack of bacillary dysentery, with which he was a patient at the local hospital for several months.

Outlook for recovery of President Clapp is good, the physicians said yesterday, but they did not minimize their concern over his present condition.

President Clapp was in Spokane a week. He was accompanied on his return by Mrs. Clapp.

Spur - Bear Paw Mixer Features Dancing Prizes

Tanan-of-Spur and Bear Paw will sponsor their annual mixer, to be held in the men's gymnasium tomorrow night, that dance being the first all-university sport dance of the year.

Marylars Marrs, Missoula, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, stated yesterday that entertainment of all forms will be featured throughout the evening. The first feature of the mixer will be the prize waltz and prize for fox trot dances. The judges to decide the winners of the dance are Coach and Mrs. A. J. Lewandowski, Vincent Bergquist, Helena; Raymond Whitcomb, Baldwin Park, California, and Miss Marrs. The prizes will not be announced until they are given to the winners.

The women will be allowed to dance with their choice dancers when Les Smith, the orchestra leader, announces the "ladies' choice" dance.

The chaperons for this dance are Coach and Mrs. Lewandowski, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Teel and Arthur Katona and his guest.

Les Smith's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance. Tickets may be purchased from members of Tanan-of-Spur and Bear Paw organizations at 25 cents a person. Tickets will also be on sale at the entrance to the gymnasium starting at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

Debate Teams To Tour State For Campaign

Holmes, McDonald, McCall, Shallenberger to Meet Five Colleges

Two debate teams, representing the state university, left Missoula this morning on a tour of the state during which they will meet teams from five Montana colleges. The teams were accompanied by Dr. E. H. Henrikson, debate coach.

The teams will speak on the same question in each debate, that question being: Resolved, That the Nations Should Agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms and Munitions. The women's team will be composed of Margaret Holmes, Helena, and Mildred McDonald, Baker, and they will assume the affirmative side. The men's team, composed of Clyde McCall, Whitehall, and William Shallenberger, Missoula, will assume both sides of the argument.

This afternoon the group will meet the School of Mines team in Butte, and this evening the teams travel to Bozeman to debate against the state college.

Tomorrow the entire party will be luncheon guests of Intermountain Union college, and in the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock will meet the Intermountain Union team, and at 3:30 o'clock they will meet the Carroll college team. The men may also meet the Carroll college team in the afternoon. Sunday evening the women will return to Missoula with Dr. Henrikson, while the men journey to Havre to meet the Northern Montana college group. Tuesday evening the men will again face the Northern Montana college team in a radio debate over station KFBB, Great Falls.

Wednesday the men will take the negative side of the question against Intermountain Union college in Helena, returning to Missoula Wednesday evening.

Five Bear Paws Attend Convention Held in Pullman

Frisbee, Warden, Haskill, Williams
And Price Are Delegates
Of Local Organization

Five delegates for the Bear Paws left Missoula Thursday afternoon to attend the convention of the Intercollegiate Knights to be held at Washington State college, Pullman, Washington, April 12 and 13.

The men who are representing the local group are Seldon Frisbee, Cut Bank; Byron Price, Laurel; Merritt Warden, Broadview; Willis Haskill, Glendive, and Douglas Williams, Butte. They will return to the campus late Sunday night.

The object of the delegation is to obtain information on pep rallies, school spirit, pep bands and traditions.

Ray Whitcomb, Baldwin Park, California, president of the Bear Paws, said Thursday night that the delegates would also seek entry of the organization into the Intercollegiate Knights, a national organization serving the same purpose as Bear Paws at Montana.

Other schools that will be represented at the convention include Washington university, Idaho, Montana State, Oregon university, Oregon State and various normal colleges throughout the northwest.

Newman Members To Give Breakfast

Seniors of the Missoula high schools will be the guests of the Newman club at breakfast, Sunday morning, April 12, in the club rooms of the St. Anthony's church. The meeting will follow the 9 o'clock mass.

Following the breakfast, a program has been arranged by President William McDowell which will include musical numbers and a short talk by Captain George B. Norris of the department of military science. Although he has not announced the subject of the talk it is believed that it will pertain to the advantages of attending the state university.

A business meeting will also be held when the group will make plans for the annual picnic held at St. Mary's mission at Stevensville, early in May.

Grade Compiling To Be Reinstated

Movement Is Led By Pan-Hellenic
And Interfraternity Councils

Blanks have been sent out to fraternity and sorority houses in preparation for compilation of grade averages. The blanks ask officials of social groups to list active and pledge members as of March 3, 1935.

The blanks will be returned to the registrar's office, where Fred Moulton, Billings, will begin the listing of credits, grade points and fraternity averages.

The practice of compiling averages was discontinued a few years ago at the same time that publishing of the honor roll was abandoned. Members of Pan-Hellenic council and Interfraternity council decided to revive the custom since national headquarters of social groups demand averages for chapter ratings. Results of the survey will be published upon completion.

Student Union Contract Work Soon Complete

Hightower Says Furnishing Will Be All of Project Left By May 30

"The contract work on the Student Union building will be finished by May 30," said John E. Hightower, contract holder of the campus Public Works construction job. "As soon as the plastering is finished, the woodwork, decorative iron work, lighting fixtures, hardwood and composition floors will be put in place, completing everything but the installation of furniture."

All exterior work is finished except the placing of fluted copper panels between the windows on the third and fourth floors. The dance hall, above the auditorium, will be ready for flooring and lighting fixtures in two days. Plaster work on the auditorium will begin in two days.

All concrete work is completed except for front steps and coping for entrance rails. The main staircase will be completed with the polishing of bannisters and landings, at present under way. The exhaust and heating ducts are all installed except for those in the top of the auditorium. The installation of the dumb waiter elevator, radiators and toilet fixtures await the completion of plaster work.

The committee on furniture will meet to decide what must be purchased and to let out bids as soon as T. G. Swearingin, chairman of the committee, who has been ill for the past two weeks, returns to work.

D. A. Fessenden Arrives at University For Interview on Head Coaching Job

Chicago High School Mentor Joins With Sandberg as First Of Applicants for Football Vacancy

By JOHN SULLIVAN

The second applicant for the head football coach vacancy, D. A. Fessenden of Fenger high school, Chicago, arrived in Missoula Wednesday afternoon to confer with the Athletic committee. Fessenden, one of the outstanding high school coaches in the middle west, has been coaching successful teams for the past decade. After his graduation from Illinois, Fessenden was offered a track coaching job at his alma mater but refused in order to follow up football. While at Illinois, Fessenden was the best quarter-mile in the Big Ten.

Accepting a job at San Antonio, Texas, he developed the outstanding team in Texas high schools. After three years there he moved to Brownville, Texas, where he was equally successful. He has been coaching at Fenger high school for the last five years and has never lost more than one game a season. This record is outstanding considering the competition in the high school league.

"I like Missoula very much, although I haven't seen much in the short time I have been here," said Fessenden yesterday. "The weather is wonderful, but I understand your spring has been delayed quite a little this year."

Fessenden was extremely interested in the football situation at Montana. Although not formally scheduled to meet him, a few of the returning lettermen found their paths leading to Athletic committee.

Central Board Adds Carnival To Aber Day

Celebration Planned in Gym As Climax; Concessions To Be Featured

Aber Day will be characterized by a new feature this year when the A. S. U. M. carnival which had its inception during the last school year, will be added to the program.

The big celebration will be held in the men's gymnasium following the events of the day. Games of chance, sleight-of-hand tricks, fortune telling and dancing will feature the evening.

All concessions will be subject to the approval of the Deans' council, so it will be advisable for all organizations to get their plans in early, it was learned today. The closing date for submitting plans is April 23.

Booths will be constructed along the walls of the gym. As many sides of the concessions may be left open as is desired. Each group should specify the size and style of booth which they wish built. First and second choices should also be made for the location of the concession in the gym. The framework of the stands will be built by A. S. U. M. and a fee of $5 will be charged to defray the cost of the construction and the other expenses involved. This money must be turned in by April 26.

A nominal sum of ten cents will be charged for admission to the carnival and the prices at the booths will be limited to the same figure.

The floor will be kept clear of stags and ballroom artists throughout the evening so that all who care to dance may do so. Les Smith and his orchestra will furnish the music.

A prize of $5 will be awarded to the organization having the best decorated booth. Judges and committees for the program will be announced later.

A form letter explaining the plan will be sent to all university organizations and it is hoped that everyone will co-operate to make the affair a big success. "The purpose of the carnival," said Jean Gordon, who is in charge of the program, "is not to make money for A. S. U. M., but to aid the groups that have concessions."

NOTICES

The Education club will hold its first picnic on Saturday, April 13. Students planning to go are requested to sign the list on the Main hall bulletin board, and bring 25 cents for lunch. The party will gather at the library and will leave at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The May Fete cast will meet next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Little Theatre for the first rehearsal.

An Old Problem — But It's Vital

Wherever one goes at the present time, one hears questions asked of students, graduates and educational leaders, and those questions may all be summed up to mean, "What is education doing for the young people of today?" This question has been hashed and re-hashed hundreds of times, but it seems to us that the really important aspect is whether education is properly preparing the young people of today for what they may encounter when they leave their schools.

There can be no doubt, we believe, as to the fact that the accepted schools of today are preparing their students for major fields. These schools, if recognized by those major fields, offer every necessary element for knowledge in the particular career that the students are starting, and as many slants as possible are covered during the space of a four-year college course. Students receiving their diplomas usually have the fundamentals well in hand if they have met their school half-way on the matter of study and adaptation.

However, in this time when we are forced to accept, the mere knowledge and fundamentals do not constitute the entire education that is necessary. No longer is it enough for a graduate to have his particular field well in hand, but he must also be prepared to face every sort of obstacle in everyday life. If a law student is to succeed, he must know his law, of course. But he must also be able to understand the trend of things outside his major field; he must have at least a knowledge of economics, political affairs and psychology. And that is true of every graduate, no matter what his field is. He must be more than one of these robots who can perform one duty and do it well; he must be able to understand many duties and angles of those duties, and he must be able to do those things passably well.

The youth of today must adjust itself to present-day life more than ever before. How many times have we heard those words either written as they are here or turned around but meaning the same thing? It is true that these words have been written often, and it is true that lecturers have spoken them often, but that does not alter the fact that they are true words. They are vital, and we, as graduates and young people, must realize that and attempt to fit ourselves into this society around us.

Everywhere we go, people ask us, "What is education doing for the young people of today?" We must interpret those words to mean a question as to whether we can adjust ourselves. Then we must go out and prove to these skeptics that education is fitting us properly, and doing this, we will have proved a vital point in its favor.

Interfraternity's Crusade Renewed

The move for lower theater-ticket prices is about due for another airing. The movement was started during autumn quarter when organizations gave vent to the feeling that some reduction should be made in prices. Will Steege, division manager of the Fox-West Coast theaters, explained that the difficulties could not be straightened out at that time but invited Interfraternity, Pan-Hellenic and Independent representatives to meet with him again in May.

During the fall negotiations it was brought out that a governmental code provision binds the theaters with a clause denying the right to differentiate between classes of people. However, Fort Missoula soldiers receive lower prices. The Post Exchange reported yesterday that prices now in effect are 30 cents at the Wilma, 20 cents at the Rialto and 15 cents at the Community.

The NRA code provision prohibits price changes, except upward, it was brought out last fall. Mr. Steege, however, expressed the belief that a satisfactory arrangement ultimately could be reached. The master agreements for the theaters are not drawn up until September, and the present agreement provides for a minimum charge of 40 cents for theaters showing first-run pictures.

We hope that Interfraternity council and other student representatives have not forgotten the approaching meeting with Mr. Steege and that the long-needed reduction in show prices may be obtained when the next master agreements are drawn up.

Masquers Offer Two Productions In One-Act Bill

Playing to a small first-night crowd at the Little Theatre Wednesday evening, the casts of "His Widow's Husband" and Dave Duncan's prize-winning "Valley of Blue Shadows" gave a couple of hours of good entertainment.

Duncan's play, a melodrama with thunderous off-stage effects, was first on the bill. The setting, which was a living-room in a western rancher's house, showed careful work done by the property committee. Lighting affected a sunset which faded gradually away to twilight and the mysterious blue shadows of death.

Harry Stockman, a freshman doing his first role in a Masquer play, took the acting honors with his remarkable work in the part of old Strachan, the man whom Lad Borden "done wrong." His extraordinary voice should lead him to success in doing character roles.

The three members of the Borden family were family-ish. Leonard Langen, as Jim Borden, tossed off some nice lines, and Frances Davenport, as Mrs. Borden, did well in her portrayal of the wife of a man who had ruled his domain with a high hand for twenty-five years. Lad Borden, the man whom Nature hadn't conquered, was played by Carl Chambers, another newcomer to Little Theatre audiences. Woodburn Brown and Stratford Peterson were the other members of the cast, which had been coached by Orville Skones, student director.

"His Widow's Husband" had a group of more experienced actors. Carolina's two sisters-in-law, played by Ossia Taylor and Mildred McDonald, almost stole the show with their busy-body activities and their grand-lady exit. Henry Loble was elegantly alluring—pardon! I meant really smooth in his interpretation of Casalonga, the sensational author.

Florencia's entrance brought a freshness to the play, which had begun to be a wee bit dull after a long dialogue between Carolina and Zurita. With tempo quickened, the play went on to a good close. Manzer Griswold, a sophomore who has done some fine character parts in Little Theatre productions, scored another success as spending a few days at the Sigma Nu house.

Alpha Tau Omega
Art Rockne was a Wednesday dinner guest at the house.

Sigma Phi Epsilon
Robert Struckman was a week-end guest at the house.

Sigma Chi
Dinner guests at the Sigma Chi house were Roy Peden and Gordon Cuniff.

Deane Jones Inspects Sigma Delta Chi Group

Deane Jones, city editor of the Daily Missoulian and an alumni member of Sigma Delta Chi, met with members of the local chapter of that organization at a round-table discussion Sunday afternoon. Jones was chosen by the national headquarters as local inspector.

Reviewing the activities and aims of the local chapter, all members entered the discussion. Brief talks on state publicity work, the chapter's student loan fund, national convention and the Newspaper Guild were given.

Communications

To the Kaimin editor:

Your editorial quoting the article in which is pointed out the danger to democracy by "seditious campaigns" of "alien organizations" which seek peace, is at hand. You say that everybody should know that the planned demonstration has opposition. Certainly it has. When thought ascends from national or nationalistic to the international, it must, of necessity, embrace the foreign or "alien." All that is traditional or conventional is not best. Anything new, especially new thought, has opposition from those who fear anything different from the familiar, regardless of any attendant evils it may have.

As for local "opposition in the country and on the campus"—the movement has, through personal contact of the student committee with school and church leaders, secured enthusiastic co-operation in Missoula, Butte, Cascade, Helena, Stevensville, Anaconda, Great Falls and Hamilton—also Intermountain college.

Your chief objection to the local movement for peace seems to be that some of the more outstanding organizations behind the movement advocate the one-hour class strike, which is not being followed here. You ask "Who of us is not fighting war?" We ask "How?" "What are you doing?" The student paper attempts, through its editorial columns, to stigmatize this movement for peace which was begun by students and is supported by students, faculty members and townspeople alike.

As far as "defense" of the R. O. T. C. by a speaker from that organization is concerned, the student body might have been told why the R. O. T. C. thinks that they are wrong who say that the battle tactics taught in R. O. T. C. classes will be obsolete in the advent of another war.

You say, "the statement that these strikes and convocations are universal is untrue." You are correct. Your reporter was told that the movement is international. It is. Students of thirty-one countries support it.

The purpose of this discussion does not consist of "swaying student views to its side," but in presenting the facts so that students may, through thought, arrive at an intelligent conclusion. Such a program is in complete accord with the purposes of higher education and of institutions composed of the devotees of intelligent thought and education.

Cinder Stars Hold Regular Time Trials

Sprinters Are Still Hopeful Of Competing at Drake Relays This Month

Preliminary workouts for time trials to be held as soon as the condition of the track permits members of the Grizzlies and Cub track teams, were held Wednesday and yesterday.

Middle-distance men figured largely in the trials Wednesday. After taking three dashes of 220 yards apiece, the Grizzlies and Cubs practiced a few starts and ran the first time trial in the quarter for the year. Jack Preston led the first heat and in spite of heavy sweat clothes circled the track in 53.7 seconds. Al Vadheim finished second in that heat in 55.5 seconds.

In the second heat which was run a few minutes later, Ben Taylor finished in 55.1 seconds. Horace Godfrey ran his first 660-yard time trial in 1 minute, 40 seconds. Ken Duff and Walter La Due ran the same distance in 1 minute, 35 seconds Tuesday.

Yesterday the middle-distance runners took their first clocked attempt at the mile for the year. Hal Stearns pulled a fast one on a large field to sprint the last hundred yards and pass all but Taylor who was fifty yards ahead. Taylor finished in 4 minutes 43 seconds, while Stearns' time was 4 minutes 48 seconds. Horace Godfrey showed up well, finishing a yard behind Stearns in his first clocked race. Jack Preston showed that he had possibilities of developing into a strong middle-distance runner as he finished the mile strong, well under five minutes.

Fred Stein, Harold Duffy, John Gravelle and several others who are aspirants for positions on the Grizzly squad as pole vaulters practiced 50-yard dashes and fast starts in an attempt to build up needed speed for greater heights in the vault. Sprinters took a little top speed work at passing the baton and practiced starts.
